CEFE works towards creating enterprising societies by teaching entrepreneurial thinking and skills to promote innovation and entrepreneurship. CEFE provides comprehensive training using an action-oriented approach and experiential learning methods to develop and enhance the business management and personal competencies in the context of income and employment generation and sustainable economic development.

Volunteering Opportunities: CEFE is seeking volunteers to participate in a new project from December 2014-June 2015. Volunteers will work directly with the project manager to assist with event organization, video production, promotion, communication, administration, and monitoring and evaluation.
